Dear Patient,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to you because I would like to let you know of my intention to retire from dental practice on Friday 5th May this year, 2023.

I am delighted to tell you that Dr Aoife O'Malley will be taking over the practice and that Dr Aisling Ní Ógáin will continue to work here as a dentist. Aoife and Aisling qualified together from Trinity College Dublin in 2003. They then worked together, for a year, as house officers at the Dublin Dental University Hospital. Since then, Aoife has worked at a busy family dental practice in Celbridge, Co. Kildare. She has been working here since last August and is enjoying getting to know her new patients!

Aisling is well known to many of you and has worked in the practice since my father retired in 2004. I am also very pleased to tell you that Paula McCabe, Lisa Cole and Grace Allen will also continue to be part of the team. Annamarie Grehan will commence work as a dental hygienist in the practice on the 8th of March. The practice will be known as O'Malley Dental. For further information, please refer to our new website <https://omalleydental.ie>

Aoife, Aisling and I share a similar approach to patient care. I am very happy and confident that the ethos of the practice will continue when I retire.

It has been a pleasure and indeed a privilege for me to be your dentist over the last number of years. My father started the practice almost 70 years ago in 1954. I was lucky to join him here in 1984. Occasionally, I get to see patients who have been attending the practice since before I was born!

Finally, thank you for entrusting me with your dental care over the years and especially for your friendship.

With every best wish to you for the future,

Conor
